Art Unit: 3651

Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities:

On page 9, line 7 of the specification, --of--should be inserted after "sake".

On page 9, line 17, there should be a space between "conveyors" and "1".

On page 10, line 6, "station" should be changed to --stations--.

On page 10, line 19, "he" should be changed to --the--.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claims 4-10 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c) as being in improper form because a multiple dependent claim should refer back in the alternative only and/or should not depend from another multiple dependent claim. See MPEP § 608.01(n). Accordingly, the claims 4-10 have not been further treated on the merits.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Reibel et al. (U.S. Patent 3,245,518).

Reibel et al. show in Figures 1 and 2 a linear conveyor 28 which is provided with receivers 32 and the width of the receivers in a conveying direction is greater than the width of the conveyed items.

Re claim 2, elements 32 are formed on belt 28.

Re claim 3, shown is a lower guide 10.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
